RE: Bobby Chavez (Member)

Dear Elite Legal Practice:

We've received notice regarding that we cease communications with your client across a number of Navy Federal Credit Union. We've notified your client's communications to release sensitive, personal information to you as his/her representative. As requested, we'll cease and desist all communications with your client for all accounts.

- As required by Regulation E:
 - Bank accounts
- As required by Regulation Z:
 - Credit card
 - Mortgage
 - Checking line of credit
- Consumer loan

Silenced! Elite acted quickly to stop the calls

We'll also continue to send any regulators or legally required communications to your address of record. If you direct us to send these statements or other communications to your client directly, we'll comply with your request. The account statements and communications are provided for compliance and/or informational purposes only and should not be construed as an attempt to collect for payment.

Please note that we've updated our records to reflect your client's cease and desist request as well as your representative. Please direct your client not to update his/her contact information online. For debit card transactions, please advise your client to use the following address reflected on his/her record for billing information and its card verification purposes.
